Week 2

Guest Instructor

Jeffrey Peterson

Jeffrey Peterson holds his MFA in dance from New York University-Tisch School of the Arts(2005) and his BFA in dance from the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities(2001). His career highlights include three years performing and touring nationally with JAZZDANCE BY Danny Buraczeski, two with ARENA Dances by Mathew Janczewski, an appearance in The Grand Step Project by Stephan Koplowitz, and multiple years performing with New York based choreographers Clare Byrne and Edisa Weeks. Jeffrey currently serves as a teaching artist in the education department at the Minneapolis Children’s Theatre Company, and will join the dance faculty at Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter in the fall. His modern class combines elements derived from the techniques of Jose Limon, Lester Horton, Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman. His pedagogy seeks to challenge the dancer to internally generate external motion while maximizing ease, flow, and line.
